

Aspiring Junior Art/Creative Director with a keen interest in art films, analogue animation, music videos, and live event visuals, while remaining open to exploring other creative opportunities. I seek to accommodate companies' desired ideas and aesthetics, as well as to challenge them equally.

I see art direction as a journey that involves key phases such as visual research, concept development, aesthetic strategy and hands-on project execution. My goal is to master the craft of creating resonant narratives and captivating aesthetics across diverse mediums, ensuring compelling communication and impactful storytelling.
